(by Sheri Madson) Named "Captain Underpants" and his friend, George Beard, were making jokes around the classroom when Ms. Pimpy entered the room. They were whispering and laughing with contempt. "You two will be leaving now, and you will be quitting your jobs," she remarked, continuing, "I've caught both of you. The principal at the school will tell your parents that you're a couple of perverts!" The children gasped, and both of them were arrested right then and there by Ms. Pimpy, who took them to the principal and escorted them home. ... Looking to free yourself from distractions, and writing a lot of text without being interrupted? Portable QuiEdit can help you out. You can completely free up your writing space, using the entire screen as your canvas, and not having to worry about losing focus on the other programs you're running. Platform: Windows, Mac, Linux License: Free Did you know that there are apps that let you take notes on the web and then sync them to your phone's clipboard? Enter Evernote. With Evernote, you can sync all your work offline, as well as online. Evernote also lets you share documents, pictures and web links with others. Are you fond of taking pictures and publishing them online? The best news is that you can create amazing web galleries with no coding expertise using PicPick. You can use PicPick as a standalone image gallery or upload your images to a storage service like Flickr. PicPick lets you configure custom styles, resize your images, and upload all your changes back to PicPick for another look. Want to hack the code for your Android phone? Bluej can help. Find the source code for apps you've installed, analyze them to see how they work, and even make some modifications. Your Android phone may be running out of space. You may be low on free memory, but you can easily free up space on your phone by purging unused apps and clearing cache data. The phone will operate much faster after you do this. Purging can be done using the Android app called Android Manager, or with the Terminal app found in the Android SDK. When you look at the calendar on your mobile phone, you're probably inundated with multiple calendars. You can see whether you're free to meet up with someone, or a busy time at work, or a free time in your schedule, for example. This is a nuisance. You can easily use the Calendar Store to cut back on the amount of calendars you see. Simple Calendar is a calendar for your Android phone which aggregates your main calendar and daily plans, so you don't have to pick and choose calendars each time you want to use them. The calendar can also be set to sync with your Google Calendar, and you can keep up with appointments in your Google Calendar on your computer. Do you like to send email messages to your contacts in your address book? SendGrid is a service that allows you to send email from your phone. You can 09e8f5149f

Support for Microsoft's XML based text formats (Notepad - TXT, Wordpad - WORD, WinRAR - DOC) Secure file backup and encrypted text files Simple file search and file compare Download Portable QuiEdit for Windows Simple but yet powerful text editing tool that turns writing into a pleasant task, thanks to its usability. I want to make a small suggestion. My favorite editor, Fast-Text, is not able to open.txt and.txt.gz files. A few other programs, like SeaMonkey and PIsolar Locate, do open them but don't do much with them when they open the file. I think you should add Fast-Text to the list of supported programs with an error message or at least under "Special considerations" as it is considered as an "unfree software".It's a pity as it is a very nice editor. I'm looking for a very simple and easy text editor to use with Windows. PQE is an excellent program for something like that, but I also like a program that can open Microsoft Word documents directly, without any conversion. AFAIK, LibreOffice is a very good option for that. Thank you for this recommendation. I will definitely try PQE. I have never heard about LibreOffice, so I will check it out as well. It is a good program, but I would love to add it to my other favorites. I have been using VLC as a text editor recently. Not only can you get it to open text files, but you can right click to get a menu

I am Max. I am 20 years old and I study Marketing at Brunel University. Over the past few years I've been going to a number of different guest lectures which have covered a lot of interesting material. They include topics like— Internships Career Development Online Skills Courses Career Conversations What we all noticed is that no matter what, these lectures typically end up discussing the same issues. I decided to challenge myself. I decided to take on one of those lectures myself and rather than just be a passive listener, I actually thought
