This was because the Clerk received the notice of appeal on March 3, 2009, and then granted Edwards an extension of time until March 4, 2009, to file the notice of appeal. Accordingly, we conclude that Edwards's appeal was untimely filed on March 4, 2009. Moreover, on the merits, Edwards's argument is without merit. Edwards asserts that the district court "improperly limited [her] proof to only the defendants' violation of the Fair Labor Standards Act... in their individual capacities." To the extent that Edwards is referring to her claim for relief under the FLSA, the district court correctly held that Edwards waived that claim, which was the first claim she ever raised in her complaint. Edwards did not raise her claim under
