AmiQuote Cracked Accounts Description: AmiQuote is a web tool for stock data, mainly tickers, that can be used to automatically download and process tickers in numerous sources. Just thought we'd share this with you. AmiQuotes is the first application we offered for free and without charge which is based on HTML JavaScript API - no white-paper nor trial period, just donate at your willingness! It's a specially designed tool for AmiBroker and the first one which offers the stock data source update, update status, download and save data in the AmiBroker database, to your own and most wished requirement. As like amicrawler, which provided the stock data download in the AmiBroker database by own customer! The stock data updating is only possible for tickers which are in AmiBroker's own database or associated with the AmiBroker database. There is no any direct update source available for AmiQuotes. The update source is automatically provided by the AmiQuotes itself when it is integrated with AmiBroker. Only when the update source is provided from the real stock quotation provider such as Yahoo! Finance, Google finance, Yahoo! Historical, Microsoft's own historical stock data, Forex, etc., AmiQuotes can automatically update the data to the AmiBroker database. With the need of the AmiQuotes (or AmiQuotes for specific update source), users don't need to deal the ticker update, download and save data manually from AmiBroker service. It's the first application we developed which is able to provide the stock data update, update status and download data in the AmiBroker database on web browser. Hope this explains you pretty well about AmiQuotes on the current AmiBroker development. Few weeks ago when we were in the process of development, amicrawler was great for us. Recently when we developed the AmiQuotes, I had re-pasted the amicrawler into my AmiBroker program's source code. Then the function is still available as well. Hope you will enjoy this and will provide us with its feedback. New Features:- Use 3rd party search engines such as Google Finance, AmiQuotes, Yahoo! Historical, MSN Historical, and others.- This version
